ⓘ ABOUT ME

I am a passionate and creative design enthusiast currently pursuing my studies, with a strong interest in UI design and digital interfaces. Though early in my career, I have a deep love for crafting user-friendly experiences using tools like Figma, and I actively build my skills through personal projects and continuous learning. I enjoy bringing ideas to life visually and thrive in environments that value design thinking, aesthetics, and innovation. Outside of design, I love drawing, playing football, and exploring video games—all of which inspire my creativity and approach to user-centered design.
